++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with sunny spells developing.

Today:
A rather cloudy start but sunny spells developing this morning, especially in east, although the sunshine rather hazy at times. Feeling warm in east with light winds. Increasing cloud and strengthening winds may bring patchy rain to Western Isles later. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
A few clear spells, especially for Caithness, but generally a rather cloudy night with outbreaks of rain across the Western Isles this evening spreading east through the early hours. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Sunday:
Some brighter spells across Caithness, but generally a cloudy day with occasional mainly light rain. The southerly breeze will be strong at times around coasts and over the Isles. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rather cloudy with occasional rain, especially in west, Monday. Cloud and rain clear southeast through Tuesday then cooler with sunny or clear spells and occasional showers. Strengthening northwesterly breeze Wednesday.
